A Blessing for the New Year

Happy New Year! Now that the busy Christmas season is over, I hope that you have a chance to take a deep breath, and congratulate yourself for a job well done. After a brief rest, (but not quite long enough, it seems), it's time to get ourselves going again to begin planning the next few months of music for our choirs and our worship services.

The new year has traditionally been the time that many people make new resolutions, take stock of the year that was, and look forward to the events of the coming year. Social media is full of ideas and advice to assist us to be the 'best' in 2018. However, one quite often has to take with a grain of salt most of the outlandish suggestions that are made.

I prefer the sagely, wise advice of Charles Wesley, probably one of the most prolific hymn writers in Christian history. The words of so many of his hymns have stood the test of time, and are still as applicable and pertinent to us today as they were when he penned them.

In 1749 he wrote a collection of hymns entitled Hymns for New Year's Day, especially for the January 1, 1750 service of "joy and thanksgiving" in Bristol, England. As I read them over, this one particularly caught my attention. I think he was thinking particularly of church musicians when he penned this:

Come, let us anew
Our journey pursue,
Roll round with the year,
And never stand still,
'till the Master appear;
His adorable will
Let us gladly fulfill,
And our talents improve
By the patience of hope,
and the labour of love.

As we begin this new year of music in our churches, may we resolve to strive to follow Wesley's guidance. I invite you to keep your list of RCCO events handy, and come and get involved in the exciting opportunities we have lined up for 2018!

Happy
New Year

A Musical Note of Thanks

SONDRA GOLDSMITH PROCTOR

AS 2017 draws to a close and a new year begins, please join me in being thankful for the many gifts you bring to the Ottawa Centre. As I recall the fantastic afternoon that we enjoyed the Pro Organo Benefit on November 5th in the beautiful Dominion-Chalmers United Church sanctuary, I am thankful for all our many colleagues who shared their time and talents both as performers and generous supporters of the important work of our Centre. The afternoon of music making was stellar. We were able to raise enough money for Pro Organo to make a huge difference in this year's Pro Organo budget.

As we look ahead to 2018, planning is well underway for our second annual Great Bach Marathon to be held at Woodroffe United Church on Saturday, April 14, to fund organ lessons for students. Each participant will perform a chorale prelude. Please pencil in this date on your calendar and plan to join us for a wonderful musical extravaganza.

If you have not been contacted to perform and would enjoy participating, please be in touch with me via email at sondragoldsmithproctor@gmail.com. We will need willing hands to ensure all the 'back stage' activities run smoothly.

A heartfelt Thank you! to each of you for your contributions to the music making and fund raising of the Ottawa Centre. Each person makes a huge difference.

Happy New Year!

Sondra Goldsmith Proctor, Coordinator
