The Gift of Mentorship

"A mentor is someone who sees more talent and ability within you, than you see in yourself, and helps bring it out of you."

— Bob Proctor

Many of us throughout our life's journey have had the privilege of having a mentor come alongside of us to encourage and inspire us. Bernard Howard, organist of the church I grew up in, was my first mentor. He was the magnificent organist of our church for 40 years. I had the privilege of taking piano lessons with him for a number of years, and those lessons included being introduced to the organ. But more than the lessons, it was his encouragement to pursue my music that has stayed with me throughout the years.

One of the initiatives of the Ottawa Centre this year has been to implement different ways of encouraging and mentoring our young organ students. For example, our scholarship program is a wonderful way of introducing piano students to the organ. The deadline to apply for this year is March 31. If you know of any students who would be interested, please encourage them to apply. As well, there are a number of scholarships and bursaries available to students wishing to pursue their musical studies. Go to our Centre web page www.rcco-ottawa.ca to view the complete list.

The Ottawa Centre Student Recital will take place on Saturday, March 10, 1:30 p.m. at St. Luke's Anglican Church. I encourage you to come out and support our students.

The 2nd Annual Bach Marathon will take place on Saturday, April 14 from 1:30 to 6:00 p.m. at Woodroffe United Church. The event will include performances from a number of children's groups as well as younger organ students and our more experienced Centre organists. Mark this event on your calendar and plan to attend!

The National Council of the RCCO has introduced a brand new, exciting outreach program called "OrgelKidsCan" that will give children the "opportunity to learn about, build, and play a small working bellows-powered two-rank organ from a kit of parts." The plan is to construct a number of these kits so that each RCCO region will have access to them. It has recently been announced that Canadian organ builder Orgues Létourneau has been awarded the contract to manufacture the kits. The kits will be available for booking in school and community events starting in September of this year. The kits will also be featured in children's events and a workshop at the Calgary Organ Festival coming up at the beginning of July.

As we each continue our musical journey, no doubt we remain thankful to parents, teachers and mentors who encouraged us to pursue excellence in music. It is my hope that as teachers and mentors, we, in turn, will continue to inspire our young people to pursue their music as we have been so inspired.

The Great Bach Marathon²

Saturday, April 14nd, 2018 at Woodroffe United Church

Pianists, singers, strings and organists, students and adults, learning and experienced all performing the works of J.S. Bach

The Great Bach Marathon 2 is arriving soon! Saturday, April 14, from 1:30 to 6:00 p.m. We will gather at Woodroffe United Church where Director of Music Katarina Jovic will welcome us.

Young students – singers and pianists – are working on their presentations. Many of our colleagues are preparing chorale preludes and movements of other works to share with us as we celebrate present and future organists.

Donations will be accepted at the door to benefit the scholarship fund for young organists. If you are able to assist at the door in welcoming our audience and guests, please contact Sondra Goldsmith Proctor at sondragoldsmithproctor@gmail.com.

To see a complete listing of participants and their repertoire, go to the RCCO-Ottawa Centre website at <http://www.rcco-ottawa.ca/events.html#event5>. Many people are volunteering their time to help make this Bachathon even more successful than last year's event. We need you to join us in supporting our present and future colleagues.

New Chaplain for Ottawa Centre

We are thrilled to announce that Rev. Canon Christine Piper has accepted our invitation to be Chaplain to the RCCO Ottawa Centre. Christine has family who are church musicians: two sons have been choristers and organist/choir directors, She is a musician herself, playing the violin in the Capital String Collective.

Currently in charge of Pastoral Care at St Luke's Anglican Church, Christine is very personable and easy to talk to, traits that will make her a more than capable chaplain!

All members of the Ottawa Centre join together in extending a warm welcome to Christine as our new chaplain. We look forward to working with you.

Pro Organo

Karen Holmes

Since Easter Sunday is on April 1st, our next newsletter may be delayed, so please mark the next Pro Organo Ottawa concert on your calendar NOW! Rachel Mahon will play at Rideau Park United Church, Alta Vista and Cunningham, on the Friday after Easter, April 6th. This concert will be co-sponsored by the Godfrey Hewitt Memorial Scholarship Fund, since Rachel Mahon counts among her many awards, the Godfrey Hewitt Memorial Scholarship.

She is currently the Assistant Organist at Chester Cathedral in England. Before taking up her post at Chester, Rachel Mahon was the first female organ scholar of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, England, assuming the post in September 2014. There, she played for several high profile events, including those in the presence of royalty. Before taking up her post at Chester, she was the first female organ scholar of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, England.

Rachel was raised in Toronto, where her parents were both choir directors. She initially began studying piano, but switched to organ in 2005 after hearing Widor's famous Toccata. She won a scholarship from the Royal Canadian College of Organists to begin studying with Melva Graham, and in 2007 continued under Andrew Ager. She received the degree of Bachelor of Music in organ at the University of Toronto School of Music under John Tuttle.

Rachel Mahon has held organ posts at several churches in Toronto, and in England. In 2012, she and fellow organist Sarah Svendsen founded the duo Organized Crime in which the two organists entertain audiences not only with their music, but with their crazy antics. Rachel has won several awards for organ performance, including second in the 2013 Canadian National Organ Playing Competition here in Ottawa. In addition, she has been awarded a graduating scholarship from the Faculty of Music, University of Toronto and the Godfrey Hewitt Memorial Scholarship from the RCCO.

She has performed with a number of choirs: the Toronto Mendelssohn Choir, the Elora Festival Choir, and the Tallis Choir, among others.

As the William and Irene Miller Organ Scholar at St. Paul's in London, Rachel was responsible for directing choir rehearsals, performing for church services, playing in recitals, and acting as assistant choir librarian, among other duties.

The programme on April 6th will include works by Buxtehude, Tomkins, Howells, Messiaen, MacMillan, Schumann, Dupré, Vaughan Williams and Bach-Guilman. Full details of her program are available on the Ottawa Centre web-site.
